

Tips for Increasing Team Morale

One of the most daunting tasks for any leader or manager is to enhance team morale. High employee morale is essential to increase productivity, decrease turnover and increase customer satisfaction.

Increasing employee morale does not have to be expensive. There are many ways to increase morale without breaking the bank.

Here are some ideas on how to increase employee morale.

1. Communicate openly with your employees. Keep your employees informed on changes in the office, management decisions, etc...
2. Celebrate employee accomplishments. Individuals are more productive and have higher morale when they feel appreciated by their employer.
3. Take office lunches. Although office potlucks are fine, it is better to leave the office so your team can refresh and recharge for the rest of the day.
4. Teambuilding activities. One important aspect of high employee morale is the feeling that they are a part of a team. Activities focusing on the team can really help.
5. Time off for volunteer activities. Allow your staff to take some time off each month to volunteer with an organization of their choice.
6. Have fun. Individuals spend the majority of their adult life at work. This is why employers should make the job as enjoyable and fun as possible.
